

| help

ALASKA'S NEWSPAPER

alaska.com

FREE Hearing Screening Permanent Fund Special - Hearing Aids

CLICK HERE FOR MORE INFORMATION ABOUT OUR OFFICE

Dr. Thomas A. McCarty, Audiologist
Call 562-6800 to schedule an appointment

Bear sightings
Get your sightings in while you can, the season's almost over.
submit photo | forum

15° 26° | 15°
forecast | statewide
Daylight : 9:31 AM - 5:55 PM

GIRDIRON GUESSES
PIGSKIN PILLOW
PLAY EVERY MONDAY!

Subscribe | manage subscription | E-Edition

adn.com Web search powered by YAHOO! SEARCH

Last Update: 5:53 PM

News Sports Outdoors Features Money Entertainment Opinion Blogs Multimedia

Classifieds

Home | Alaska Newsreader | Obituaries | Archives

TV Listings | Movies | Music | Restaurants | Submit Event

Deals Jobs Homes Cars Rentals

Sell it today Place an ad Find an ad

Fatal crash, overdue planes keep searchers busy

By BETH BRAGG | bbragg@adn.com
Published: August 11th, 2008 03:25 PM
Last Modified: August 11th, 2008 04:36 PM

Two people died in a plane crash near Sitka, two others - including the deputy commissioner of the state Department of Revenue - are missing on a plane that disappeared near Juneau, and troopers are on the lookout for a plane that may be missing on the Kenai Peninsula.

Click to enlarge
Brian Andrews, Deputy Commissioner of Treasury. (Courtesy of State of Alaska)

The three incidents kept searchers busy over the weekend and into today.

Dozens of people searched by air, boat and ground for deputy commissioner for revenue Brian Andrews, who has been missing since Saturday afternoon along with his 24-year-old son, Brandon.

"We're hopeful," said Jerry Burnett, a friend who works with Andrews in the Department of Revenue. "They're both lifelong Alaskans and they've spent a lot of time in the woods. They're capable woodsmen, they're both good pilots and they had a lot of survival gear.

"If there's any possibility they could survive, they would."

A look at the three incidents:

- Late Sunday night, the U.S. Coast Guard located the bodies of two people killed in the crash of a Baron-55 on Baranof Island, about 30 miles north of Sitka.

A crew from Air Station Sitka located the wreckage after the Coast Guard received a distress signal around 11:15 p.m. Sunday. The crew followed the signal and found the plane 200 feet up a hillside in a dense forest, Coast Guard petty officer Levi Read said Monday.

Names of the dead haven't been released yet. State troopers hoped to retrieve the bodies Monday.

- Searchers are scouring a vast area in Southeast - 1,000 square miles - for signs of the Andrews and their Cessna 182 float plane.

Brian, 56, and Brandon were returning from a family camping trip on Young Lake when the plane vanished, Read said.

They had already made one plane trip from the island to Juneau to drop off son B.J. and some gear. They returned to Young Island to collect the rest of their gear, a round trip that should have taken about 45 minutes, Read said. When two hours passed, B.J. reported them missing.

A search party found the camp site but no gear, Read said. It's believed the Andrews made it to Young Island but ran into trouble on their way back to Juneau.

The search area includes a lot of water, "but the fact they were in a float plane allows them to land on water," Read said.

The two men were last seen wearing inflatable jackets, he said, and the items they collected at Young Island included an assortment of survival gear.

Rain and fog hampered aerial searches on Saturday and Sunday, Read said. Fog limited helicopter searches each day to a single hour.

Helping the effort were the Civil Air Patrol and a number of private boats that happened to be in the search area, fishing in a Juneau salmon derby. The Juneau Mountain Rescue Team and Alaska State Troopers organized ground searches and a number of private search parties are also assisting the

More News stories »

- McCain calls on Stevens to step down
- Alaska Politics Blog: Want to see Palin e-mails?
- 'Joe the Plumber' meets the media
- Again, not everything said in debate was true
- Legislators meet secretly on Troopergate

We become stronger in the service of others

OUR STRENGTH IS OUR PEOPLE

PROVIDENCE
Health & Services
Alaska

<http://providencecareers.org/AQ44>

find

Advanced search » | Place an employment ad

Best Deals more deals »

- Pets & Farming
Find puppies, kittens, and all pet supplies and services here. More...
- Other Transportation
Find great deals on bicycles, snowmachines, ATV's, watercraft and airplanes. More...
- Merchandise, Miscellaneous
Antiques, apparel, even the kitchen sink. Find deals on general merchandise here. More...
- More great deals »
Advanced Search | Place an ad | Special Sections

 Important warning about e-mails purporting to be from the adn.com staff.

© Copyright 2008, The Anchorage Daily News, a subsidiary of The McClatchy Company

Contact Us | Newsroom Contacts | Communication Forms | Subscriptions | Advertising | Featured Advertisers | Terms of Use

Daily News Jobs | RSS Feeds | ADN Store | Newspapers in Education | Privacy Agreement